

Creative retreats for agile workspaces

Collaboration Huts

FRÖVI[®]

Collaboration huts are the meeting rooms of tomorrow

In today's progressive workplaces, space is arranged to suit the activities and tasks that take place. Lines of division are removed, and opportunity for staff to seamlessly flow from one work zone to another stimulates creativity and innovation.

However, the need for a retreat is as important as it always has been. There will always be times when individuals and groups need to get away from the bustle to focus on challenges and to brainstorm opportunities.

Huddle Shed Rustic

STEP OUT
OF THE MAINSTREAM

Boasting the same essential design as the standard Huddle Shed, this Rustic version provides a quirky design feature with its outer timber cladding and tiled-look roof.

Step out of the mainstream and into the garden shed for real blue-sky thinking, alone or with your colleagues. It can be equipped for full digital connectivity, despite its rustic appearance.

_Iconic design to create a genuine 'talking point'

_Highly effective acoustic properties for noise cancellation

_Available in the fully clad Rustic design or entirely upholstered

_Media model includes monitor mount and integrated power and data

_LED lighting for the roof supplied as standard

_Rustic design uses commercial-grade materials for practicality
